RICHESON DID NOT RESIGN FROM PASTORATE

Counsel Advised Him to Take No Action

LITTLE NEW EVIDENCE

Prof. Charles H. Bennett Often Saw Him With Avis Linnell who Was Pupil of Bennett

Boston, Oct. 23.—In their efforts to clear up the circumstances of the death of Avis Linnell, the Hyannis Sunday-school teacher and music student, with whose murder Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson is charged, the Boston police have been unable thus far, it is said, to locate the poison receptacle. When the girl took the dose of cyanide, it was in the bathroom of the Young Women's Christian association home on Warren street and though the house was searched immediately after the death, by order of the medical examiner, and the police, the cyanide container which had been thrust into the pocket of the bath robe and it was believed that orders would have to be given to exhume the body. Further inquiry last night, however, revealed the fact that the medical examiner's assistant examined the bath robe carefully and he declares there was nothing in the pockets of the garment.

Deputy Superintendent Watts said definitely yesterday that he has information of a direct character that Mr. Richeson dined with Miss Linnell on the afternoon of the day on which the girl took the fatal dose. This information, Deputy Watts said, came from a young woman who is not a member of the Young Women's Christian association household. She met Miss Linnell on the street late Saturday afternoon.

"Miss Linnell told me," said Deputy Watts' informant, "that she had just dined with Richeson and that she was going home as she was suffering from a headache." The cafe in which the couple had dined is also known to the police, and the employee there are said also to have verified the statement of the young woman as to visits made by the Cambridge pastor and the conservatory.

Although there appeared to be a bit more of prayerful solemnity than usual, the morning worship at the Immanuel Baptist church of Cambridge yesterday was without reference of any kind to the plight of the congregation's pastor, Rev. C. V. T. Richeson, who is under arrest charged with the murder of Miss Avis Linnell. It had been reported that Mr. Richeson would resign his pastorate through a letter to some member of the church to be read at yesterday morning's service, but no such thing was forthcoming.

It was the opinion of Thomas M. Munney, chairman of the finance committee, as expressed after the meeting, that Mr. Richeson should resign so that the church might be relieved of some of the notoriety, if for no other reason. "We do not suppose that Mr. Richeson is guilty," said Mr. Munney, "but, innocent or guilty, his resignation should be forthcoming, in my opinion, as his continued connection with the church only embarrasses both him and the congregation."

The opinion that Mr. Richeson will not resign his pastorate, nor issue any statement to the public or to his parishioners, was expressed by his counsel, Philip R. Dunbar. Mr. Dunbar said he has already advised the minister to make no statement of any kind, and further that he would advise against Mr. Richeson handing in his resignation. Mr. Dunbar says he believes it cannot help his client's case at the present stage either to resign or to make any statement.

Sunday is not a visiting day at the jail. Sheriff Fred N. Seavey issued strict orders to the guards at the outer entrance to admit no one without a written order from him and the sheriff denied himself to all callers during the day. Miss L. V. Richeson, a sister of the imprisoned clergyman, arrived in Boston late Saturday night from Saranac Lake, N. Y., where she has been engaged as a hospital nurse. She expressed complete confidence in her brother's innocence. It was her earnest wish, naturally, to see him at the earliest possible moment, but she found the prison regulations too strict to overcome yesterday. Miss Richeson is understood to be a guest at the Brookline home of M. Grant Edmonds, the wealthy father of Miss Violet Edmonds who was to have been married to Mr. Richeson the 31st.

Miss Edmonds herself is said to be ill as a result of the shock which she received when her clergyman lover was taken to jail. It has also been reported that Mr. Richeson has released his fiancée from her engagement, but her father, when questioned about the matter over the telephone yesterday, refused to discuss

ROYAL FAMILY IS ALREADY SAID TO BE ON RUN

Chinese Prince Regent Also Reported Dead

REBELS STILL GAINING

Emperor's Forces Dare Not Leave Pekin to Help the Royal Army in the Field

Peking, Oct. 22.—It is rumored that the Emperor has left Peking, but the rumor is not confirmed. It is probably to be ascribed to the fact that the families of numerous palace servants are going into the country and that the servants are asking leave to go.

There is another unconfirmed rumor that the Prince Regent is dead. This probably originated in the fact that he has not attended meetings of the Cabinet for the last two days. The British Legation has received a despatch which predicts that, unless Gen. Yin Chang wins a decisive victory within a few days the whole of the valley of the Yangtze will rise in rebellion. The Government maintains telegraphic communication with Sing Yang Chow, near where Yin Chang has mobilized 20,000 men. It has been stated officially that the troops were at Kwangshui, which is further south. The difference is important as Sing Yang Chow is on the northern slope of the hills separating Hunan and Hupeh, and the only pass through the hills through which the railroad runs is reported to be held by the rebels.

It is believed that Yin Chang has been unable to force the pass, and this possibly explains the statement that he intends to complete his organization before starting south. It is a question whether he will be enforced to keep all the troops possible near the capital is increasing. The possession of the pass by the rebels cuts off the retreat of 3,000 imperialists who are fleeing north from Hankow.

CHANGE IN ASSESSMENTS

Frank A. Rice, a well known lawyer and speaker, will be at the rooms of Wallomac Lodge, N. E. O. P., Tuesday evening for the purpose of explaining to the members the necessity for the increase in assessment rates made at the supreme session of the order held in Boston last May.

The change in the rates has resulted in a decrease in the membership of the lodge, largely due to it. It is believed by the officials, to the fact that the necessity for the change has not been fully understood.

This change was brought about by legislation which affixes a rate for fraternal insurance, which should result in as much protection for new members as for those who have been longer in the order.

It "That is something I would rather not talk about," he said.

Nor would Mr. Edmonds say whether the wealth of his daughter or of himself is behind the retention of the pastor by Richeson. It has been said that Miss Edmonds assured the pastor before parting with him Friday that he could command all her property if necessary for his defense. The young woman is said to have several hundred thousand dollars, and her father is generally reputed to be a millionaire.

Deputy Superintendent Watts and Inspector McGarr worked on the case today. For some time they were in conference at headquarters and later Watts had a talk with Prof. Charles Bennett of the New England Conservatory staff. He went to see Bennett because of the statement by a young woman employee at O'Brien's Sea Grill in Dartmouth street that Prof. Bennett had said to her that he knew Miss Linnell, and Richeson dining there frequently. Wherefore Deputy Watts asked Prof. Bennett about his knowledge of Miss Linnell's habit of visiting this particular restaurant. Prof. Bennett declared that the last time he saw the girl dining with Richeson was at the Grill in the early part of the summer, just prior to the closing of the conservatory for the season.

Prof. Bennett explained that two or three days after the announcement was made that the police were investigating the death of Avis Linnell, he was called to the Grill for lunch, and while there one of the waitresses or the cashier said to him something about the couple frequently having been customers of the place. To this Prof. Bennett replied that he had spoken to the girl and that she said in reply, "Oh yes, I am in the habit of going there frequently with Mr. Richeson because he likes to dine there."

Prof. Bennett said that the last time he saw Avis Linnell was on the Tuesday prior to her death. It was the regular day for her to come to him for a vocal lesson and upon her arrival he noticed that she seemed to be dispirited and partly upon her request and upon his own suggestion he excused her.

Deputy Watts reiterated tonight his statement made on Saturday evening regarding the information given him by a young woman friend of Miss Linnell's that the latter said she had been out dining with Richeson a week ago yesterday. From what the detective said tonight the impression was created that Miss Linnell told the police informant that Richeson had given her something to take for a headache.

SCHENECTADY STRIKE ENDED

Street Railway Company Accedes to Demands of Employees

Schenectady, Oct. 23.—The strike by the employees of the Schenectady railway company Thursday night was settled Saturday. The company acceded to the demands of the men which included the right to organize without interference and the reinstatement of 13 men recently dismissed by the company. Two hours after the company's answer to the men's demands, cars were running as usual. While the strike lasted Schenectady and Interurban traffic was almost at a standstill.

The men had no grievance so far as wages were concerned. The strike was for recognition of the Schenectady union of the amalgamated association of street and electric railway employees. Union leaders threatened to carry the strike to Albany, Troy, Glens Falls, Rochester and other places if their demands were refused.

MRS. ALZINA W. WILLS

Sudden Taking Away This Morning of Respected Resident

Mrs. Alzina W. Wills, aged 65 years, passed away at her home on Union street shortly after 4 o'clock this morning after a lingering illness. Death resulted from a paralytic shock. Mrs. Wills on Sunday appeared to be in her usual health. She took a carriage drive during the day and visited her sons' camp at Barber's Pines. No change was noticed until the shock came early this morning.

Mrs. Wills was a native of Vergennes, having been born in that city October 9, 1846. She was married in Vergennes about 45 years ago to James H. Wills, who died 18 years ago in Vergennes. Mrs. Wills had been a resident of this village since 1902. She was well known here and had a large circle of friends who will mourn the announcement of her sudden death. The deceased, though a sufferer for several years, bore her affliction with great patience and was at times a cheerful disposition. She lived for her family, always having its welfare at heart to the end.

She leaves to mourn her loss two sons, William H. and Harry A. Wills, and a daughter, Miss Adeline E. Wills all residing here.

Prayers will be said at her late home at 7 o'clock Thursday morning and the remains will be taken on the 7:45 train to Vergennes for burial. The funeral will be held from St. Paul's church, Vergennes, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MEADER E. DRAGON

Well Known Young Man Passed Away Sunday Afternoon

Meader Edward Dragon, 19 years of age, died at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at his home on Park street of heart trouble. He had been confined to the bed since last August, though hopes of his recovery were entertained until the last.

The deceased was born in Shaftsbury and with his parents, came here from North Bennington to reside last June.

He was a young man of good habits and had he lived, the future promised success for him. He was well known and generally liked wherever he had been employed. He was a member of St. Peter's church. His many friends will grieve his early death, and his illness he was employed in the press room of the Evening Banner for about three months. During this period he was highly thought of by his associates in the office. Later he was employed in the Cooper mail car shop where he became well acquainted and well liked.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dragon, a sister, Miss Eva Dragon, and a brother, Frank Dragon, all of Bennington.

The funeral will be held from the home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Rev. E. D. Tibbitts of the Episcopal church officiating. Burial will be in the village cemetery.

M'NAMARA JURY TO INCLUDE WOMEN IF NECESSARY

Under California Law They Are Eligible

BOTH SIDES ARE WILLING

Present Jury List Will Be Exhausted However Before Women are Summoned

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 22.—District Attorney Fredericks and Clarence Darrow, attorneys in the James B. McNamara case, have under consideration the question whether by reason of the adoption of a constitutional amendment giving women the right to vote the fair sex will be called upon to serve as jurors in the case.

"There is no reason that I know of why they should not serve," said Mr. Darrow today. "I do not know whether it will be necessary to go outside of the present jury list or not, but if so women who are on the assessment rolls are just as eligible to serve as jurors as any man would be."

"It has not been decided that women will be called on this case yet," said G. Ray Horton, deputy to District Attorney Fredericks. "The District Attorney and myself and other deputies have had this matter under consideration. The legal points involved have not all been threshed out, but that work is going on now. It is possible and indeed probable, that of the present jury list is exhausted and the sheriff is sent out into the highways and byways of Los Angeles in search of jurors he will be expected to draw no line between men and women."

Attention is being given especially to looking up those witnesses who are expected to corroborate the alleged confession of Otis E. McManigal, admitted to be the strongest card of the prosecution. Mr. McManigal is in frequent conference with members of the state's attorney's office and detectives allied with that side of the case. He sat in his cell today talking freely and confidently about his part in the case when the newspaper men entered. Surprise was expressed at his robust appearance.

"Yes, there will be more than one surprise before this case is over," said McManigal.

He was asked why he had made the reported confession.

"Well," he answered with a drawl, "a fellow knows when he's caught and there was nothing else for me to do. I wanted to be with my wife and baby again."

"But your wife is now suing you for divorce," he said.

"Well," he said, "I'm sorry, I love my wife and my child; but I think I shall be with them again sometime. Somehow, the situation will right itself. My wife has tried to win me over to the other side in this case, but I can't switch. They have caught me and I am going to make a clean breast of the whole matter."

Towards the McNamaras in his conversation, McManigal showed no bitterness.

BEATEN BY SMALL SCORE

High School Boys Played Williams College Sophomores

Bennington high school Saturday afternoon played its first game against college students in a number of years and made an especially creditable showing; being defeated by the Williams college sophomores by the small score of 11 to 0.

The college boys made both of their touchdowns in the first period. After the school boys recovered from their nervousness they held their own against the rushing attacks of the college students and even went through the line for good runs.

A few minutes after the game started Hodges, the heavy Williams half back went around an unguarded end, dodged a couple of tacklers and went over the line for a touchdown.

Smith kicked an easy goal making the score Williams 6, Bennington 0.

Williams scored the second touchdown through the kicking of Hodges and the failure of the Bennington backs to handle the punts. Two long drives and two fumbles put the ball close to the Bennington line and by the Williams line.

Hodges was sent over. Smith kicked the goal making the score Williams 12, Bennington 0.

In the second period Bennington not only played as good football as Williams but advanced the ball by plunges through the line. Levin and Paulson made a number of good runs and Denly was sent through the center for gains. When the whistle sounded the school boys were steadily pushing the ball toward the Williams line. They had the ball on the ten-yard line once during the period but lost it on downs. The line-up:

RODGERS MAKES SUNDAY FLIGHT

Arrives at San Antonio Covering 50 Miles in 55 Minutes

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 22.—C. P. Rodgers, coast to coast aviator, arrived here today, flying 50 miles from San Marcos in 55 minutes. Rodgers started this morning from the field two miles north of Kyle, where he was forced to descend by a broken piston rod Friday. He flew to San Marcos, 10 miles away, and descended. He ascended again at 10:45 o'clock and made no more stops until he reached San Antonio.

Rodgers' plans for flight west are indefinite. He may follow the Southern Pacific tracks due west, or may fly to Kerrville, 55 miles northwest of San Antonio, cut across the country to Rock Springs, and then follow the Texas and Pacific railroad to El Paso.

NO GAME TODAY

Grounds at Philadelphia Too Wet for Use

Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—Rain which began falling here again shortly before 6 o'clock last night killed all hope that the grounds at Shibe park will be in condition today for the much-postponed fourth game of the world's championship baseball series between the Athletics and New York Giants. Nature has done little to dry up the field since Saturday's postponement.

The drizzling rain which fell all night finally ceased at about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Threatening clouds, however, continued to hang over the city, and the sun attempted to break through at only brief intervals during the entire day. Although Ground Keeper Schoeder and his assistants are doing everything in their power to improve the condition of the field, it is practically certain that there will be no game tomorrow.

The New York players returned to Philadelphia last night.
